IN MEMORIAM

Richard D. Ash, Jr.

Science Department

Knowledge and understanding are life's faithful companions who will never prove untrue to you. For knowledge is your crown, and understanding your staff; and when they are with you, you can possess no greater treasure.

—Gibran

Learning follows various roads.

We note the start but not the end.
For Time and Fate must rule the course.
While we see not beyond the bend.

The best of knowledge is a dream

The gainer holds steadfast, uncowed
By ridicule, and moves serene . . .

—Gibran

*We are the music-makers,
And we are the dreamers of dreams,
Wandering by lone sea-breakers,
And sitting by desolate streams;
World-losers and world-forsakers,
On whom the pale moon gleams;
Yet we are the movers and shakers
Of the world forever, it seems.*

—Arthur O'Shaughnessy

this year . . .

a year of manifold dreams

and multi-furrowed disappointments

We reached out for others;

sometimes grasping a helping hand

and sometimes missing completely

hours of companionship

offset by aching loneliness

moments of

intense involvement

countered by moments

of apathy

we sought to discover ourselves;

sometimes we caught a glimpse

and sometimes we were lost in darkness

but the indecision

that we suffered

has opened the door

for ringing confidence

and our future;

as ourselves

Leo Lauretano, Vice-President; Peter Knight, President; Janis Ferguson, Treasurer; Sally Platzoeder, Secretary.

JAMES JOSEPH ALDO

Jim was once seen riding around in a white '61 Ford, but . . . can always be found at Sal's. Never understanding Bloke's wisdom, only physics confuses him more. Will never forget "Higgy's barn" and "Scuba 7." Hopes to be an engineer if he can resist buying a car.

Traffic Squad.

JOHN JAMES ALFORD

I loved alone."

—Edgar Allen Poe

JUNIORS

We began in the confusion of H Block, no homerooms, and the absence of Fanny Farmer. But the football team, PSAT's, and the attempted defeat of the new high school quickly prepared us for the year's coming activities. As the largest and most unorthodox class to pass through W.H.S., we spent a few unorganized weeks in debate over the prom. The population explosion, Debbi Ceroli, and a glance at senior expenses took the prom out of the atmosphere of sweat socks and into the elaborate hall of the Montvale Plaza. Chandeliers, fountains, flowing punch, and roast beef contributed to a huge and memorable success. It left the seniors in awe and Mr. Waite "waiting" for a waltz! As the year of "middle men" comes to a close, we find ourselves surrounded by finals—and the more serious matter of sophomore girls. We leave our junior year with satisfaction, anticipation, and relief!!!

ABERJONA

Excedrin headache No. 431: the Abby! Countless meetings composed of countless hours, supplemented by fiddle-faddle. You say that we only have to do over fourteen pages of the senior section? Well, that's better than last time! Another extension on the payment deadline? Another ad? We're running out of pages! A sleep over at Lesley's? You can have something to eat, Karen, after you do three more pages! But I told you the meeting was at 7:30 (I really did) . . . The following club pictures will be taken during H Block Monday. A new feature: English class pictures! But we survived the year—thanks to our dynamic duo—Miss Cannon and Miss Zinkus! Scrambled copy—a scrambled year—but worth it!

NEW RED & BLACK EDITORS

It wasn't easy: there were late nights, frantic 2:30 meetings, and an occasional lack of news; but the Red & Black staff persevered, and succeeded in publishing a newspaper which displayed both ingenuity and journalistic knowledge. The social and senior pages were renovated, the editorials and letters to the editor aroused schoolwide debate, and more underclassmen became involved with the paper. For R & B and Co., it was an unforgettable year: tombstoning, those lovable boxes, photo foibles, the non-office, $4.35 extra subscription money, and the once-a-month chocolate chip cookies. But the biggest kick was seeing Mr. Joyce's and Mr. O'Connor's faces every fourth Wednesday. And, of course, realizing it was worth every minute.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

Every Wednesday afternoon a group of loyal poem, short story, and essay writers got together to improve their writing, to laugh, to devour bakery delicacies, and, in the process, to have a good time. Each week club members' poems, short stories, and essays were read and criticized for the benefit of all. Creative writing, under the talented and democratic leadership of Miss Collins, was particularly ambitious this year. Thanks to literary contributions from students, it was able to put out two issues of Sassafras, the school literary magazine.

MASS. MENTAL HEALTH

Every Tuesday afternoon a group of dedicated girls traveled to the Massachusetts Mental Health Center in Boston. There they met with twelve students from other schools, and each was assigned to a ward. In the wards the girls were able to talk to the patients and the nurses, and afterwards they met for discussion with Dr. Riley, a psychiatrist. There they discussed the patients that they had met and each particular illness. This program proved rewarding for all involved. These girls gave their time and friendship, and gained the immense satisfaction of seeing a patient on the road to recovery.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year we were blessed with one of the most active and effective Student Councils in the history of the school. Primarily because of its enthusiastic officers, the Council involved itself in a multitude of projects. The highlights of the year included involvement in the new high school controversy, the celebrated drug abuse program, the disagreement over a new dress code, the annual Winter Carnival Dance, and the Police-Student Forum. Hopefully the Student Councils to come will continue to govern WHS in the same remarkable manner that it has this year.

GERMAN CLUB

Last year the German Club was founded with the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the language and culture of Germany. This year, under the guidance of Helen Sandalls, German Club has been fairly active. Trips included the Museum of Fine Arts and the Boesch Rewinger Museum. Some members saw a play called the "Firebugs" and others a modern dance recital by Gerda Zimmerman. Plans for the future include a trip to the annual festival of Tivoli at Boston University and a party with the German Club of Newton High School.

Speaking very slowly in halting, broken phrases, the members of the "cercle français" met for their Tuesday "soirées!" One of the major problems was finding a room big enough for the forty industrious students who came for some continental excitement, led by the suave (?) monsieur le president, Leslie Fabuss. The second biggest problem was trying to find enough chairs. But, eventually, all was conquered. We even got the projector to work so Miss Zinkus could demonstrate the year's theme of surrealism. Whether playing Monopoly with francs, eating bread and cheese (no wine?), or Christmas caroling for Brigham's and the newsstore, French Club was, well . . . unique.

SPANISH CLUB

Before the end of the first week back at WHS after a long summer's sleep, the officers of the 1968-1969 Club de Espanol dusted off the old cobwebs and spun into action. Herding up our members this year wasn't too difficult, it was just filling our treasury box which was a challenge. After finally convincing our members to help us set a budget, we started planning our festivities. They included a Christmas party featuring our favorite singing group, "Los Companeros." We then welcomed our exchange student Peco, a native from Peru, to WHS. After February vacation we journeyed to Boston to see the colorful play, "Man of La Mancha." More meetings brought about more schemes and we then decided to have dinner in a Spanish restaurant. Who knows, next we may decide to charter a plane to Spain. Good luck to next year's Spanish Club and many thanks to Mrs. Truchcart.

LES TROUBADOURS

"Bonjour, mesdames et messieurs!" . . . (to an all female audience). But, of course, no one noticed faux-pas of this sort except Les Troubadours themselves! This year, directed by Mrs. Thistlethwaite, our French singers mastered the art of singing la-la-la in place of the lyrics to "Mademoiselle de Paris." While heads were in the clouds with dreams of New York and Montreal, our feet scurried to retrieve ever-misplaced berets. All agreed that the Rotary Club performance, complete with roast beef luncheon, a half-day of school, and surprise pencils, was the grand succès of the year!

Bonne chance aux nouveaux Troubadours!

Seated: B. Clark; Standing: J. Coffin; P. Orsillo; P. Ramano; S. Herrmann; A. Shannon; M. Hurley; J. Vitca.

LOS COMPANEROS

Los Companeros, clad in brightly colored Spanish costumes, had a very successful second season. Many new talented musicians and singers helped make this group's many appearances successes. Engagements at the Country Club, Faculty Meetings, and the Vaudeville showed this group's originality and spirit. Mrs. Thistlethwaite's hard work and patience paid off and it looks as if Los Companeros will have many more worthwhile seasons to look forward to.

DEBATE CLUB

After their subject for the year was changed several times, the Debate Club finally started intense "boning-up" on "The Draft." Though they vowed that there would be no more ease writing in the car, when you're told at 2:00 you'll have to debate at 3:00, what can you do? Despite the perpetual snow, laryngitis, and nonexistent activity periods, these fork-tongued opinionists forged on. Aided by the quick wit, cynicism, and effective tactics of Miss Cannon, many sophomores and juniors have, hopefully, been inspired to employ their vocal chords and hot tempers on a somewhat competitive level.

Lindsay Katcoff, president.

Every Thursday evening a group of interested and interesting students got together to discuss and be informed about topics ranging from the war and the draft, to poverty and drugs. This active club led by its busy president, Lindsay Katcoff, and its very helpful advisor, Mr. Budrewitz, tried to do many things which would appeal to many of the students. The goal of this club was to become a forum for the school and have programs which anyone could attend and enjoy.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

W. DiNitto; P. Peterson; R. Hill, president.

I.R.C.

At first, it seemed that all the WHS diplomats were dead. The new staggered schedules made it difficult to find a convenient time to meet. But with a little prodding from Mr. O'Connor the I.R.C. undertook its yearly goal of understanding and tolerating the other side in the world crisis. Under Richard's guiding eye, the members made progress with shady blackboard diplomacy, and colored chalk warfare. Delegates were sent to several Junior World Affairs Council activities and a simulation of the Mideast crisis was organized. Members also took part in the WGBH-TV series, Crisis Congo, as well as in a student movement to get the eighteen-year old vote.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club, under the fine numerical direction of Gregory Stone, was very successful this year. With the mathematical minds of Cris "Tricky Number" Allyn, Cris "Square-root" Barlow, Winnie "Logarithm" Dinitto, Alan "Intergrating" Leland, and Peter "Arc Sine" DeNatale this team was in 12th place out of 44—the best rating Winchester has ever had. Between their great victories the Math Club still had time to work with the town computer, and to offer a slide rule course to the rest of the school.

WHSR, the Winchester High School radio station, ably co-managed by Sara Dillon and Brian MacDonald, broadcasted every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon from the Speech Arts room. Advised by Mr. Cox, the powerful ten watt radio station kept Winchester informed; Wake Up Winchester, news, surf reports, town elections, and Tricky Questions were provided by the station at no extra charge.

"A radio club is a microphone you break windows with."

TRAFFIC SQUAD

Fearful only of stomping footsteps, these men have once again completed a highly successful campaign against drafty doors. In fact they were so eager to go to work that they became famous for leaving classes early and arriving rather late. But certainly no one would believe those wild rumors that hinted monitors played some weird type of hockey with their feet before attending to their portals. And have you heard the one about the Christmas caroling? No group of door-holders could ever sing that well. But, "all good things must come to an end," so where does that leave this group??

CURTAIN & CUE

Led by three faithful advisors and one accident-prone president, Curtain & Cue still managed to boast successful performances and a soaring membership. The annual One-Act Play Night saw the seniors sweep the awards with their presentation of "The Bald Soprano," while the sophomores and juniors held their own with entries of "The Apollo of Bellac" and "The Will." 1969 will long be remembered . . . "Take Her She's Mine" . . . "Zorba" . . . the drama festival . . .

TUMBLETTES

At 8:00 every Saturday morning on Manchester Field, fourteen girls were found playing in the mud. With a total of five different routines, these girls courageously tried to entertain the crowd during half-time. Off the field, their favorite sayings consist of:

Kathy H.: "I oughta be shot! Get it?"

Darcey: "I always do that!"

Sally: "That looked lousy! It's horrible!"

Judi: "Okay, then, I won't tumble."

Marcella: "I don't feel like doing it."

Kathy L.: "I can do it! I can do it! See?"

Susie: ???

Alicia: "Watch me! Watch me!"

Sue: "Next joke . . ."

High among memories are "Mighty" White walking across the field on her hands, rainy games, mud, breakfasts, Sue's rash, Yoken's, blankets . . . Special thanks to our advisor, Pat McMonagle, and good luck to next year's co-captains, Mutt and Jeff.

SPIRITED SQUAWS

Memories of warpaint, mid-morning pre-game brunches, red tights and runs, artistic signs for the cafeteria, and shouts of "We're number one" . . . Braving the rain at Lexington and the cold at Woburn, these girls were always there to give the boys a cheer. Congratulations to the 1968 boys' football team for their outstanding record and Middlesex League Championship!

WE'RE NUMBER ONE

After thirteen years the Sachems finally brought home the well-deserved championship! It all began on August 24 at Camp Wyanoke when Coach Marshall got the boys together to produce what looked like the best team in Winchester history. Unfortunately disaster struck and by the fourth game our Sachems had lost four key players: Jim Mallon, Brian Bowen, Billy Wolfe, and Joe Bonasera. But Coach Marshall and his staff wouldn't allow the rest of the boys to let up. The Sachems won their remaining games through tremendous pride and determination. So at last our Sachems are official League Champions and have proved to everyone that we ARE number one!

I.T.S.T.S.G.

Everyone knows that the girls' field hockey team had another exciting and successful season this year. But do you know the inside story?

1) The best thing about hockey camp was:

- a) lacrosse
- b) the Canadian service
- c) signs and loudspeakers
- d) mice

2) The most effective scaring weapons were:

- a) scare tactics
- b) the fullbacks
- c) never quite pinpointed

3) The team's worst enemy this year was:

- a) Watertown
- b) the weather
- c) the girls' football team

4) The team couldn't have held together without:

- a) ace bandages and tape
- b) Ben-Gay, Dr. Sloan's, and Dr. Sacca
- c) the water machine

5) The high point of the season was:

- a) beating Lexington in the last three seconds
- b) pumpkining Miss Collins' CAR (?)
- c) the muddled and muddled mess against the soccer boys

Extra Credit: Explain the procedure for tipping after a dinner at HoJo's.

Thank you, Miss Collins, for a fantastic season.

Good luck to next year's co-captains, Debby Doyle and Eileen McKenna.

SACHEMETTES

Another first for the Senior girls!! Donning helmets, football shirts and looks of fierce determination, the girls literally battled their way to a 1-1-0 record in their series against Melrose. Special thanks go to our coaches, Peter Knight and Jim Mallon, who taught us all of the techniques of the outstanding boys' team (while we incorporated a few of our own design) and to our unique, daring cheerleaders and faithful water-boy. This powderpuff team leaves next year's senior girls a challenge to live up to! !

SOCCER

The Grey Squirrel finally found a team that could do the job: with a dazzling display of brilliant offense, impenetrable defense, and a lot of courage, Coach Bouley's League Champion soccer team romped their way to an impressive 11-2-1 record. Led by co-captains Jim Barry and Paul Peterson, Bouley's Booters relentlessly pursued their goal of a Middlesex League Championship. The grey hairs of the fox fell against Concord, but beating Lexington halted the possible decline. Next they went on to upset the girls' field hockey team 3-0. The Seniors will take with them grand old memories plus over half the team. Hopefully, Lexington will be beaten again!

PACEMAKERS

The combined efforts of coach Richard Handrahan and Captains Wayne Padula and Jerry Hicks led this year's cross-country team through a hard-fought season. Their record of only 2-5-0, unfortunately, does not tell of the Concord and Melrose meets which the boys lost by only a few points. Good luck to next year's co-captains, Tim Fahey and Jay O'Leary, who look forward to a more promising season with the return of lettermen Peter DeNatale, Alan Leland, and Ron Allard and, hopefully, a few more sophomores.

Row 1: S. Ceruolo; N. Benshimol; T. Fahey; J. O'Leary; W. Padula, co-captain; G. Hicks, co-captain; K. Tully; R. Donahue; D. Strout. Row 2: R. Allard; L. Augello; D. DeNatale; S. Bryant; P. The Wrestling Team, commandeered by Coach Tom Kline, was quite successful this year. Though hampered by forfeits, weight problems, and lack of depth, each wrestler finished the season with a winning record. The team was led by the efforts of Captain Don D'Andria who, along with Steve Grace, was almost undefeated. With a limited number of seniors, the underclassmen provided the necessary stamina to defeat experienced and seasoned three-year opponents. So, next year, Coach Kline can look forward to the same type of practices with his powerful, better-drilled M.P.s. Record 6-5.

KLINE'S M.P.s

BOUNCING BELLES

This year's hopeful hoopsterettes, comprised of spirited, shorter seniors, jolly juniors, and silly sophomores, ended the season with a 4 win 3 loss record. Led by co-captains Marcia Barrow and Cathy Niles, the enthusiastic Sachems played fast and well all season. Competition was keen, not only from opponents, but also within the team, as the towering juniors kept the determined seniors constantly on their toes. The undaunted seniors gracefully concede that Miss Collins should have a great team to coach next year as the galloping giants already have a "head start." Good luck to all next year!

Houghton, coach; T. Kelley, coach. Row 3: C. Emery, manager; S. Jacobs; B. Dolan; J. Beck; C. McKenzie; B. Harris.

SKATING SACHEMS

The hockey team, under the guidance of Coach Ted Kelly, had a "building" year. With two returning lettermen, Captain Doug Dalton and goalie Fred Cammon, the pucksters won three exciting games. The squad fought fiercely in every game, losing several by only one goal in the third period. However, the Sachems met the challenge adequately in tense, well-fought games. Sporting a tight defense and a daring offense, the pucksters played with flashing skates and plenty of spirit. After a season of tough fighting and great team effort, next year's more experienced team can anticipate an improvement over the 3-9-3 record.

BASKETEERS

Under the direction of Coach Vandy French and led by Captain Tom Workman, the Sachem basketball squad completed a winning season with a 10-8 record. The high points of the campaign were the victories over Concord and Woburn which were the season's finale. Jack Papadinis' shooting and Peter Knight's aggressive defense always seemed to mystify opponents. Action-packed practices and spirited bus rides typified these '69 hoopsters. Often only a lost point here or a missed basket there determined the outcome of vital contests (remember Lexington, Belmont, and Melrose?). Next season should be another fine one as the talented underclassmen take the spotlight.

GYMNASTS

The Winchester Gymnasts ran into a streak of bad luck after winning their first three meets. They came very close in several meets such as North Reading, where the score was 75.30 to 72.25. Another example was Wakefield where the Sachems lost by only eighty-five hundredths of a point. But their score against Wakefield, 88.05, was the highest achieved this season. Coach Albright attributes the season's record (3-6) to the loss of two state champs, Dick Marvin, who moved last year, and Mark Harrington, who had a bad back. However, despite this year's bad season, the Gymnasts are already anticipating a winning season next year.

Hey, who ate all the oranges? Hello, warm-up suits wherever you are. This chalk is like baby powder. Don't bother to get a pair of blackies—we'll completely lose our male following—which means the bleachers will be empty. The enemy's new weapon—rosin. What? NO tights? That was a beautiful layout straddle—too bad you told the judges horizontal stoop. Suggestion for next year's team: two-piece leotards—one size fits all. "Two rights, down the stairs, and left"—that's what she said. How come the door says Boys Locker Room? The judge missed my mount? My dismount? Did she see the middle or was she too busy scoring? I'm next? Guess I'd better think up a routine, how about 1! 3! 6! 9! Who do we think is mighty fine? Coach O'Hare!

TRACKSTERS

The Indoor Track Team, under first year Coach Tom Hughes, finished their season with a 2-7 record. Despite the team's record, both of the co-captains had outstanding dual-meet seasons. Neal Benshimol won a fourth at the State Championship, and, unfortunately, Riek Mobbs lost a certain second when he tripped over the last hurdle in the finals. Other consistent senior point-getters included Les Fabuss, Ken Tully, and Rich Donahue. Next year's co-captains Ron Allard and John McHugh can look forward to a fine season with the return of several experienced underclassmen.

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

A dense, chaotic collage of text, images, and maps. The text is a mix of headlines, names, and phrases, many of which are repeated or fragmented. The images include a map of Vietnam, a photograph of a person, and a small graphic of a person's head. The overall effect is one of overwhelming information and visual noise.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Sophomore year seems ages in the past—
So many adjustments had to be made so fast!
And some lucky girls were seen at their lockers,
Pleasantly hijacked by those senior male talkers.
“Last on the bus” was the rule for field hockey
For those sophomores whose innocence was beginning to show.
With an “I T S T S G”
Into the showers the sophomores did go.
For skiing, Frontenac was really the place
Where everyone could witness the humiliating disgrace
Of strandings on Durance Dip and being kept in for lip
And getting mouthfuls of snow in the face.
“Sparking” was the Sophs contribution to drama,
But the lack of awards caused mild class trauma.
This play paved the way for future success,
And it sure kept kids laughing, the class will confess.
The computer dance was a mechanical delight,
Though the physical outcome made many take flight.
The computer dance over, a Love-In had begun,
The crowd merged on our Common in hopes of some fun.
But this Winchester First became somewhat confusing:
Were tree-climbing and flagpole-sitting all that amusing?
Church retreats were fantastic for all those partaking,
But those staying at home were quite often forsaken.
“Are you a turtle? You bet your sweet BLANK!” was the Congregationalists’ sophomore year prank!
Junior year found us older but not too terribly much wiser—
For many, it turned out to be the year of Budweiser.
Schmink’s parties were one popular center of attraction,
And soon the Drop-In Center sprang into action.
Enthusiasm ran high for this student-run hideaway,
With pool, ping-pong, and music, Saturday afternoons simply fled away.
Drugs were a threat, as Winchester awakened
To the harrowing addictions striking the nation.
For those who could forget those horror show thrillers,
Under the guise of “Drugs Can Be Killers!”
“Gai Paris” was the theme for those promming,
Last minute preparations almost saved it from bombing.
And One-Act play night was a junior success—
For acting and directing “The Lottery” proved best.
For Girls’ and Boys’ State we sent Cath, Peter, and Paul:
Class of ’69 was proud of them all.
Then during the summer, the parking lot’s purpose was founded:
With beer freaks and rumpots it often abounded.
(Though the morning after, those same people might find themselves grounded.)

Senior year opened with a victorious smash,
The football team won the league and at Swims’ held a celebration bash.
Paul Peterson and Jim Barry led a soccer team smash,
And in the high school parking lot held THEIR celebration bash!
And the field hockey team—well, they almost pulled through,
And not to be left out, they celebrated too.

This truly was our most nervous year
As we quivered by mailboxes in spasms of fear.
Acceptance or rejection was the torturing question
As test results and deadlines drew perilously near.
“Girls can sometimes be boys” was the Powderpuff fascination,
While the male cheerleading squad displayed questionable coordination.
Breakfasts at Elaine’s were a Pep Squad delight—
Although by game time there were few members in sight.
In the fall of this year, Hewis did it again—
We’d get a new high school . . . but the question was when?
And the poor Spirit Wagon had seen its last day
When a dumb junior boy pushed it out of the way!
Madrigal Singers and Los Compagneros joined the school repertoire:
They proved formidable rivals for Los Troubadors.
By the senior year, our dramatic comeback was complete;
“The Bald Soprano” came through in a prize-winning sweep.
Directed by Glo, they went to the Fest.
Despite the sad outcome, they were really the best!
Our senior class boasted many a star,
Lise— our carnival queen, and Glo— our DAR.
Winter of ’69 was the time of the ski,
As experts and novices mingled . . . smashingly!
Whether skiing or otherwise, accidents often occurred;
Luckily—at the hospital victims were not long deterred.
The hit show of the year was certainly Vaudeville—
For Mr. Niblock—modville
For the waitresses—bodville
And for everybody else—ODDVILLE
After months of planning, hard work and delay,
The EYC Coffeehouse got underway.
Better known as the Garrett, it offers donuts and song—
And Bob Ross’s creative genius to help it along.
The new lunchroom monitors were a dubious success:
They started and stopped riots; then cleaned up the mess.
With the arrival of spring, the common did sprout
With hippies and pacifists sitting about . . .
Til our friendly neighborhood cop then weeded them out.
As senior festivities drew to a close,
Class of ’69 really went wild.
Bicycles, sneakers, and skip days arose.
But the routine continued meanwhile.
Up to Ogunquit the senior class fled.
On hot dogs and drinks hungry seniors were fed.
Though the drinks were fast-flowing,
The Pepsi was knowingly
Switched with other beverages instead.

So Senior year closed, as many supposed, with a long-drawn-out sigh of relief.
And with surplus cash—no, not a bash—STEAK was substituted for roast beef.
The poor Senior Prom is limping along—still semi-finished to date;
Good-bye to you now and may good luck allow you success along your new way.

All the things they have seen,
All the things they have heard:
An April sky swept clean and the song of a bird . . .
